Champagne & Flights

“I drink champagne when I’m happy and when I’m sad. Sometimes I drink it when I’m alone. When I have company I consider it obligatory. I trifle with it if I’m not hungry and drink it when I am...”

- Lady Bollinger

Champagne

Champagne can only be called Champagne if it's from the Champagne region of France.

* REIMS

Montagne de Reims

Pinot Noir sits proud on the limestone rich soils of the Reims 'Mountain'.

* EPERNAY

Côte des Blancs

Chardonnay is king here due to the famous chalk rich soils called 'terroir crayeux.' And the very important base to many of the best Champagnes in the world.

* AUBE

Côte des Bar

Often associated with grower Champagnes. Many vineyards are family-owned and operated, with a focus on terroir.

Vallée de la Marne

Early budding Pinot Meunier avoids the early morning frost here, and adds a floral, fleshy fruit and aromatic complexity.

Côte de Sezanne

A hidden gem in Champagne, showcases a growing community of passionate growers.

PROSECCO / MOSCATO

One of Italy's greatest winemaking innovations is the Charmat-Martinotti method - the method to make Prosecco (most popular sparkling in the world) - where the second ferment is done in closed tanks to capture the bubbles. It's beauty in its simplicity and balance.
